Visitor Guidelines at Rose Medical Center
Family and friends are welcome to visit, as visitors are an important part of the healing process.

Visiting Hours
Regular visiting hours start at 8 a.m. and end at 8 p.m., however, individual units may have specific visiting hours or limitations. Please check with your nurse for any specific visitor guidelines.

Only 2 visitors may visit a patient in the Rose ICU, IMC or NICU units at a time.

During flu season (typically October through March), Rose may limit visitation based on the State Health Department recommendations.

Visitors arriving to the hospital after 8 p.m. will need to enter through the Emergency Department entrance and sign in with the Security Officer. Each visitor arriving after regular visiting hours will be given a visitor name tag with the patient room number they are intending to visit.

For the safety and comfort of all of our patients
Visitors to the critical care unit are limited to immediate family members only.

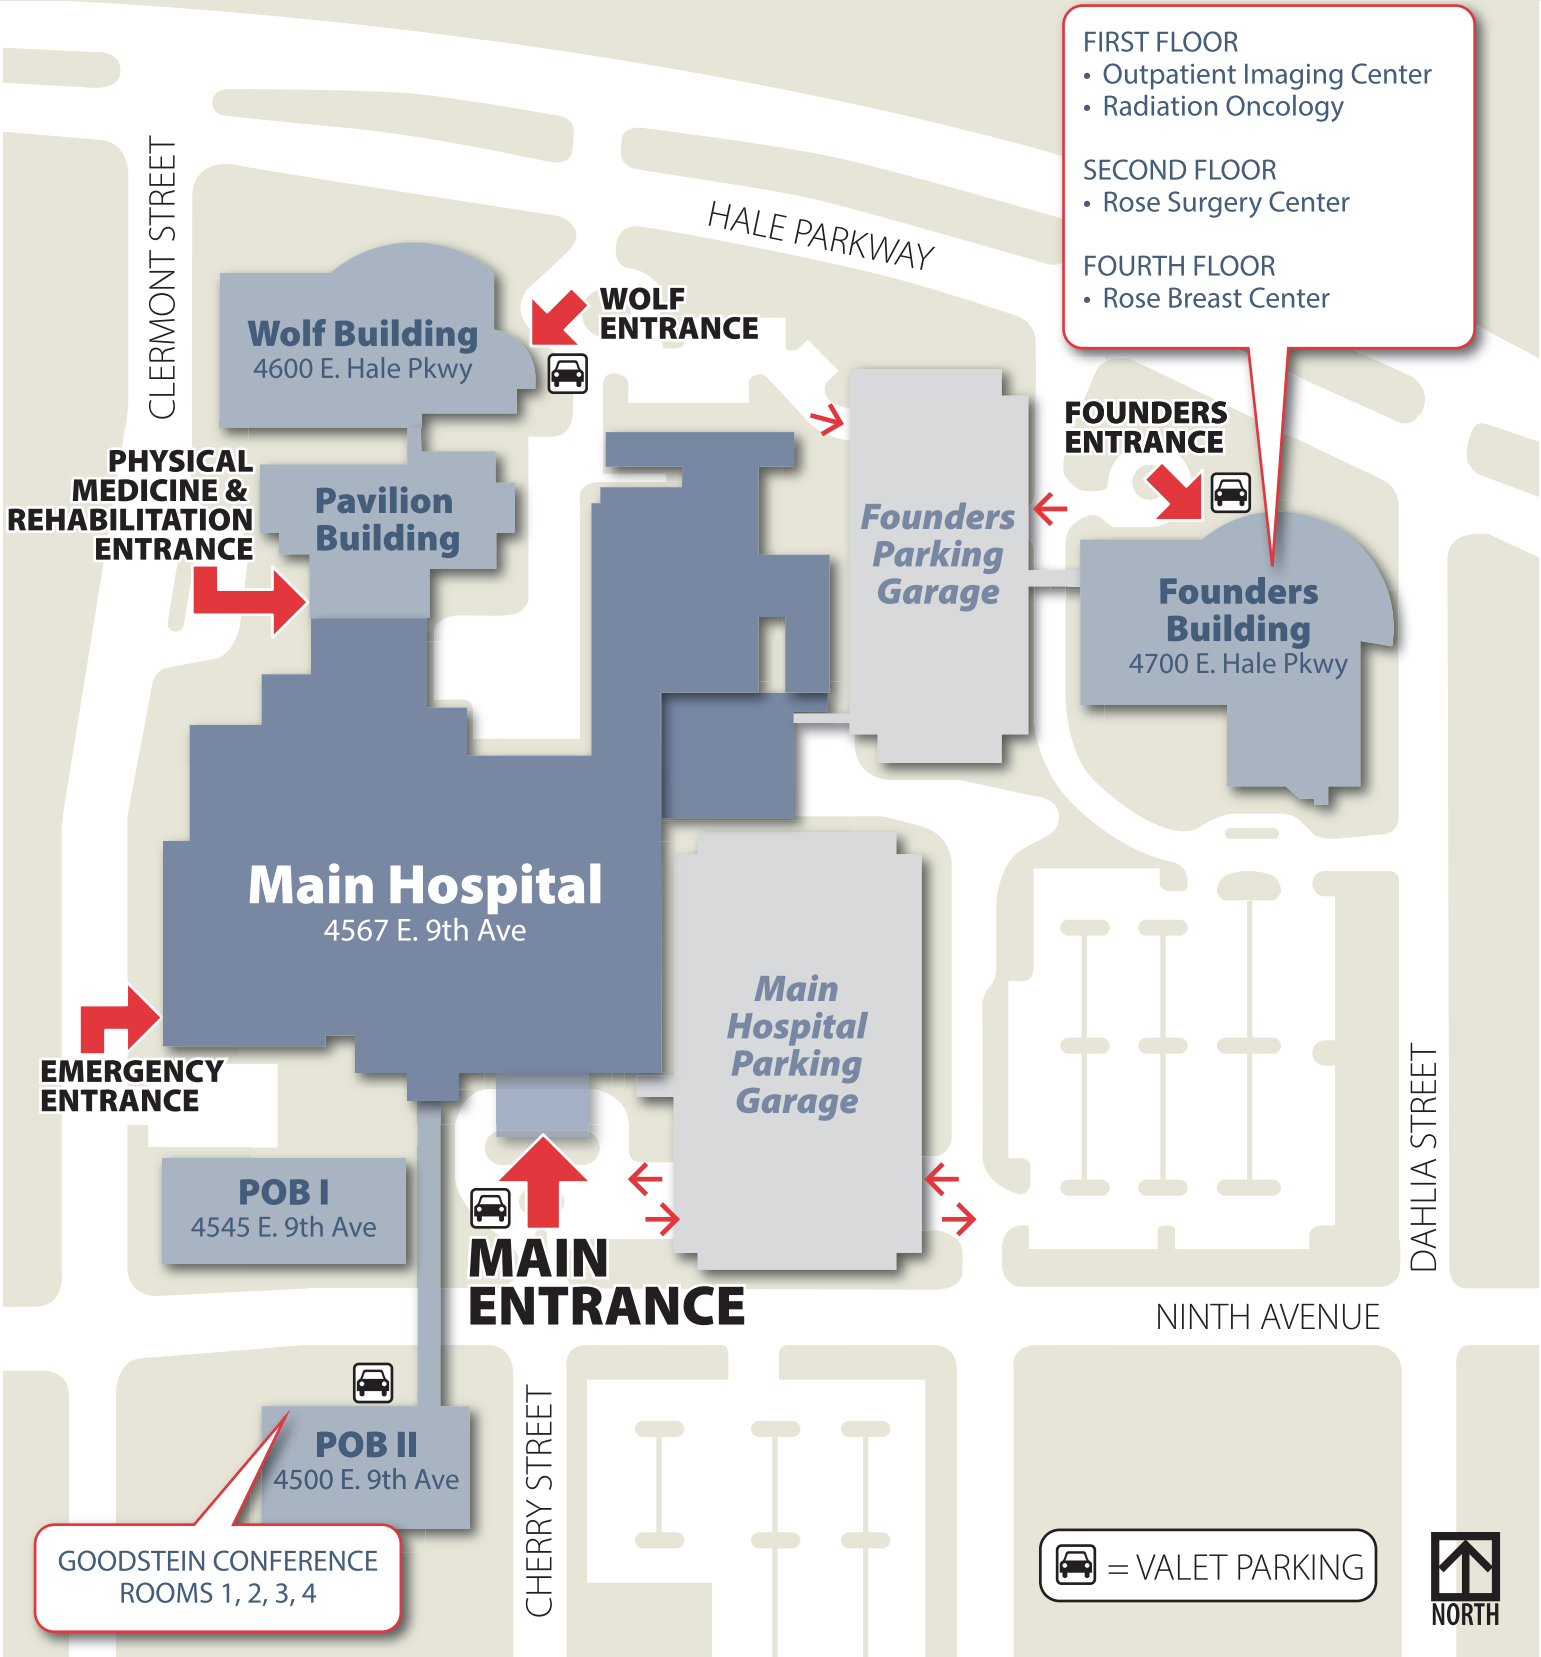

Visitors should leave the room promptly when treatment is to be given or when asked to do so by a nurse or physician.

Please wash your hands upon entering and leaving the patient's room for your health, as well as the health of our patients. Visitors must not enter a patient's room if they have a cold or other potentially contagious ailment.

Visitors should not enter a patient's room when a "No Visitors" or "Isolation" sign is posted on the door. Some areas require gowns and/or masks upon entering the room. Please check with a nurse if you are unsure.

All visitors must wear shirts and shoes.

Children under the age of 12 years require adult supervision at all times while visiting. The supervising adult cannot be a patient. Our patients are healing and need to rest. Please keep voices low in both the patient rooms and waiting areas. Ensure children are supervised at all times.
